Jada - Private

Hello April -Game Changer - superior portal opening of deconditioning - reclaiming your mojo - next stage of mass awakening.

If your March experiential journey in the inner flow of Panta Rhei was a swirling of crystalline fluid input with the fire of all life, an expression of confusion, chaos, action and clarity, April, will be pretty straightforward.

The first chapter in the second year volume of your individual log and your adaptability in the alchemical trinity process is now integrating all encoded vibrations in the planetary transition moment in a rather rapid forward/upward dynamic.

Right off the bat, you feel competitive and passionate quickly, opening up your needed confidence to get you out of the last work-rich 12 cycle - after all, all the helpers the first half of the month Sun, Mercury, Venus, Chiron (and for a few days the Moon) are all in Aries.

The first day of the universal month of April 9 begins with a lot of energy.

Listen to your container, pay attention to your individual needs. You may be guided to eat significantly less than usual and take more rest periods - Energieswitch Detox program - your container is flooded with nourishing tachyons fill your account and give yourself this time.

If your day-to-day experience has triggered some resistance/inertia/lethargy through the multiple March energy uploads and its ancient conditioning blowups, now at the end, Mercury moving into Aries on 4/4 will harness the full extent of your mind and unleash the raw power of unfiltered thoughts.

Your highest expansion requires unity, oneness and the inner responsibility to awaken and self-actualize.

It begins the reconnection of plutonium essences, a dissolving wake-up effect, of many new companions of your soul in the ups and downs of never-ending transmutation of self.

You write your chapter moment by moment, reclaiming and reviving the parts we have fragmented, ignored or denied in the past. When we reclaim our wholeness, we activate our highest blueprint of mastery so that all parts can find their right relationship and alignment within ourselves.

Let the clarity of the Messenger of the Gods and his Intellectual Firepower inspire you to communicate more boldly, but be careful not to be too harsh in interactions as you may hurt the feelings of others.

However, the true emotional intensity of April will really kick in on 9/4 when Mars dialogues with sensitive and scattered Neptune, conjunct Mercury with Chiron (9° Aries).

The already executed March activation of your greatest core wound (thanks to Chiron) to self-realize and embody your mastery is the highest upgrade of your container so far. So far, you have been completely unconsciously reproducing the scar tissue and muscle memory of your past injuries and wounds into your container.

Your operating system of muscle memory and emotional water can reinforce old trauma structures/conditioning and survival mechanisms that were once used to survive.

When we breathe pure energy/light through our awakened heart, we can cleanse and transmute this memory from our own cells. Wisdom becomes a powerful filtering mechanism to purify the wholeness of all experience through the mastery (practicing love in Unity Consciousness requires discipline to limit the toxic herb of judgment and evaluation to zero) of our being.

Some old memories of past hurts may resurface during this transit. Uncomfortable patterns/structures that have accompanied you during your quest for growth in all imaginable formations throughout your lifetime.

Take the opportunity to understand yourself on a deeper level instead of hiding from your true essence.

These old hurts do not define you, but they are part of you and your personal history.

When you become aware of your karmic relationship, you realize what interactional entanglements and thus incorporated earthlings are serving you on a platter. They may not be the gifts you desire, being outside your comfort zone. But they are the gifts you need to take your itinerary to a higher plateau/level - once you recognize the apparent challenge, it is no longer a challenge but a gift.

Still in Aries season, you will reach new depths by 11/4. The Aries spark of creation belongs to the mental body, initiating the mind-body connection and the lens of relationship to our thoughts, actions and results.

An important level that is often bypassed or ignored is the emotional body. Our feelings and sensations store information and memories in the waters of our emotional body. Since the physical body is 70-80% water, our emotional body has the ability to support and reinforce our desires and intentions, or it can sabotage and block our intentions from an invisible blind spot below the surface, taking up unconscious space under the radar.

Another turning point occurs at the New Moon/In Aries (CEST - 05:33:04h - 22° Aries - accompanied by sextile Mars /Twini, sextile Saturn/Aquarius and a Pluto/Capricorn square).

All planets involved in this craziness are in an energetic doer mood. Challenging you to pioneer, explore, take a stand, and engage in projects that define the truth of who we are.

A perfect opportunity to align your whole heart with your highest purpose.

12/4 Venus/Pluto (26° Aries, 26° Capricorn) your emotions are likely to meet your dark source of emotion field, deeper, more vulnerable but also more alive than you've been used to.

As we awaken the life spirits and align with our container to receive feedback, we must learn to see and honor the expressions of our current water rather than trying to push mind over matter to get where we want to go or to manage and control our experience.

When you surrender your mind to the heart to awaken to a higher octave of universal love, this aligned frequency of communication activates throughout your system.

The heart speaks the language of love, your mind follows this, the sparkling consciousness of all-encompassing universal love flows into the fluid cellular consciousness. The daily dialogue and all the unconscious conversations scatter prisms in your present embodiment that then transmute memories of pain, trauma and fear as you calibrate the frequency of love in the cellular structure.

The good news is that once you clear out what is dead and decayed, you reconnect with your heart from a more authentic sovereign place.

Let yourself be consumed by the overwhelming desire to better yourself to win your game of life. But please with mindfulness, you may be a little too obsessed with being the best of everyone - 16/4 the Sun will align with domineering Pluto, paving the way for overstuffed egos and reckless behavior.

Fantastically, the grounded energy of Taurus seeps into our cosmos as early as 14/4 and Venus the planet of love moves into her home sign. It starts an otherworldly sensual, luxurious and romantic vibration that will materialize and enrich all facets of interaction.

With Venus in Taurus, you will find it easier to connect and honor emotions, discovering it's okay to be YOU - without guilt or self-doubt creating a breeding ground.

The life of an Earthling is all about uncovering the path in the jungle of relationship entanglements building blocks of unity consciousness. This ultimate journey of the heart begins with the understanding that relationship begins within a self. Of course, through ancient conditioning, we carry a longing for security and look outside to find the answer. But an earthling life is not about finding something in the outer field through someone else a guarantor that provides us security.

We are here to live our unique self -through decontamination of homogenization- Now.

On April 17, 2021, Mercury (at 26 ° Aries) encodes Pluto (at 26 ° Capricorn) square. The positive manifestation of the Mercury/Pluto square is a depth of thought, introspection, and a healthy concern for uncovering truth. A great time/space structure to do deep intellectual work, inquiry or discovery. Negative expression obsessive thoughts and power struggles make an appearance.

18/4 (29°/Aries) - the Mercury/Sun conjunction is the ideal space to materialize/manifest things that have experienced their initiation on 8/2. This conjunction carries an energy - manifestation energy - similar to that of the Full Moon (this particular conjunction always occurs midway through Mercury's direct cycle)

Careful, relaxed vibrations will occur until 19/4, then when Mercury settles in the second half of the month (19/4) and Sun likewise settles in Taurus you will experience this shift.

In Taurus, everything is about concrete steps and concrete results. If we felt inspired and had lots of ideas during the Aries season, now is the time to make things happen. Taurus will give us the practical intelligence and perseverance we need to make our ideas a reality.

It slows down your thought process and encourages you to look at decisions carefully and critically with patience. If the Aries season was comparable to a cheetah's speed, Taurus is the tortoise.

Relationship interactions will experience a shake up on 22/4 when the Venus-Uranus conjunction (10° Taurus - Uranus surprise) occurs. It sometimes takes these shakes to remind us if we are truly faithful to our heart's deepest desire/will.

Sudden endings and beginnings are already encoded, needing deeply primal energetic shifts to allow for completely new interpersonal interactions.

23/4 Mars moves into the protective, emotional house of the threshold and will slow things down even further. Which may cause you to procrastinate a bit, or be especially sensitive to outside stimuli before taking the leap forward.

Mars is the planet of action, and Cancer/House of Threshold Cancer -a cardinal sign- is the sign of privacy and security, your comfort zone. It supports you over the next six weeks to draw stronger boundaries and fight for what's important to you. Mars in the house of Threshold may seem emotional and fragile, but is hard as stone and will not hesitate to fight back when what is important to you is threatened.

On 24/4 conjunct communication/ Mercury and surprising turns to freedom alignment/Uranus at 10 ° Taurus. Exciting profound insights and breakthroughs, "aha" moments and important announcements are already in-fused.

As we rewrite Log- Book and flip the switch from previous wounds to current mastery, we realize that we need all of our experiential particles to grow. Likewise, we need each other as the awakened wholeness of love for our galaxy, solar system, planet to thrive.

As we perform all these frequency input actions, we begin to collaborate on the divine orchestration of oneness through unity and love. New possibilities are emerging and now everything is awakening.

Creative expression of all kinds and types allow mind and heart to merge into unity - it becomes easier to articulate your emotions more convincingly - supported by Mercury/Venus 25/4 at 13° Taurus.

The month ends with a brilliant showdown -27/4 the 2nd super full moon (of four CEST 05:31:32h) in Scorpio 07°- throughout the cosmos intensity and shockwaves vibrate and incredibly deep seated truths will swing to the surface through this awakening shake.

All full moons in Scorpio are hyper intense and this one is no exception. She is opposite Uranus in Taurus and trine Mars in Cancer - while the fluid sign waters the emotion fields Uranus is trying to unlock the next possible exit.

Pluto turns retrograde on 27/4 (26° Capricorn), ushering in an even slower, spiritual period of inner transformation on 26/4. Embrace the process of accepting new beginnings. Pluto is most powerful when stationed. So around this date we can expect Plutonian events, issues related to power, transformation, and surrender to forces greater than ourselves.

30/4 - Sun/Uranus conjunction 10 ° Taurus the longing for freedom will ring loud in the ether - revise your human definition of freedom -.

freedom is to be your true self

The key energy of the second band in the trinity process April 1st chapter is clarity, creation spark and forward momentum.
