Huge new highly vibrating harmonic waves of our unit coding for perspective shifting are anchored.

Time is NOW

There is no more time to follow your old path of the conditioned ego and its illusion, there is no more time to follow distractions and coping mechanisms, there is no more time to carry what is accustomed to the old into the new, there is no more time to reflect in the Dharma to strive for alignment.

In the last days you have crossed the space of the vacuum of emptiness, now all your fractals of your multidimensional super-consciousness - complete data integration/reboot by 14/12- are starting to come together.

Who are you outside your pain, your conditioning, your mode of survival? Who is the being that struggles daily to free itself from all the patterns of the eons.

Many earthlings really have to face many challenges on all levels and feel closer to death than to life. It may not seem like you have any strength left, but She dwells within you and she peels FONTENAY layer by layer to the TOP OUTSIDE.

YOU ARE CREATION ESSENCE OF YOUR TRUE SELF, the PART with which you are connecting at this very moment. A fluid OBJECT of alchemical magic of individual super-consciousness in the fusion of the universal essences in your Great MAJESTIC BEING.

Once a year we move in perfect harmony with Akturus and the adjustment is always in the energy field of the Libra like last time in the days of 14- 20/10 and currently runs simultaneously with the flooding of Lyra's core essence. A harmonious convergence of energy from healing for balance.

12 dimensional templates from the cradle of the humanoid races are available in the quantum field of collective consciousness vibration. Templates that serve to superimpose an energetic code to the deeper sensory connection of our multidimensionality, recalibrating our energy systems to embody the expansive frequency vibration emission, which in turn reactivates our mind to the integration of the divine blueprint.

A new level of even more accelerated vibration of awakening is about to materialise.

The encoded wave principle in this photon upgrade will give you self-healing in the first instance, and in the next step will heal all those around you. The inner and outer parts of our self are powerfully shifting into balance, into your sovereignty.

An alignment that helps you to step into the power of your true temple, burning away the shadow things we no longer need through the flaming of the fire. To step one step further into the portal of infinite love and through your courage to bring this bright light into the hidden depths.

Your higher, true self still demands to dive deeper into you, to shake up the accelerated amplitudes and their subatomic information of the dormant DNA in your cells.

Perhaps the correspondence of your body reflects what is expanding within you.

Sweep the hyperphotons, their vibration amplitudes through old patterns/structures suddenly appear extremely changed body temperature, flu-like symptoms, so that what does not belong to your true persona, inside and outside, can be separated/loose, combined with diffuse high humming electrical vibrating whole body current. Extremities with pain (soles of feet, knees, hip bones, neck of femur, ulna, metacarpus, palms), swollen lymph, hypothyroidism, sinusitis, discharge, skin and muscle tone - sensitivity to touch.

If your heart pulsates very unrhythmically, piercingly, bumpy, fluttering or in high rhythm, it clears old wounds for the expansion of unconditional love.

If your ears are ringing, the vibration will train you to absorb higher multiversal whispers in the life of your still earthly sleepwalking - sound sensitivity in day consciousness.

Increasing Ajna, Sahasrara the spin you perceive blurred vision or flashes of light, headache or head pressure (vagus nerve, at the cranial plates- master points- touch sensitivity).

The challenges of connecting the spiritual and physical world with our will are mastered in Manipura, which is expressed through the digestive tract (flatulence, miasma voiding, respect, again food intolerances).

The ascending inner strong resistant self-confident fighting spirit of your reality can support the density digestive fire through bhasrika breathing, hydration with warm water, the colour vibration light white, yellow gold.

Parallel to this, our planet, our mother sphere expands and draws itself in greater light, higher vibration of its cosmic expression. This also serves to weave higher frequency vibrations into the state of consciousness of the earthlings.

Have no doubt, have no fear of the shadows of yourself or the things you will encounter in this dark space. Don't follow the thought of your ego daring to open up and the adjustment to a newly structured space-time experience happens in the perspective of neutrality.

Remember that everything we create sounds in the entire universe.

All star tribes, ancestral families and soul teams cheer us on, supporting us with love, grace for the highest attainable timelines in all moments of the moment to awaken the new age through us and our connections to true life.

See the great essence that exists through each one of us, reaching far beyond the 3D form. Recognize the power we emanate and feel as you do, we all may use it for the highest, best good of all times through our choice.

We all perceive our own world, we all have the free will to see what we choose to see what our attention wants to see. Whatever energy we create and send out into our reality is the energy that comes back to us.

So much power resides in your temple and yet the will to not perceive it is inclined to give it away to external forces.

As you begin to stabilise the understanding that everything is interconnected and nothing is ultimately separate from you, everything, we are simultaneously opening inner portals of empathy and insight as your perception extends to new horizons.

To inhabit the current body temple there are countless energetic chain reactions that support your development.

You know the words - you are what you eat - on this planet our embodiment is dependent on food, light and water and although these elements are separated from us in some way we cannot exist in the present, witnessing the progression of all our star material without these elementals.

Our universal origin cannot be denied either in the invisible subtle spiritual or through scientific observation. It is an inalienable construct that is intricately woven into our natural way of being.

If we neglect the hygiene of our true nature through expression, conditioning, imprinting, mind, systems, inclination of our human aspect, we show symptoms of imbalance. We reap physiological complaints, which indicate exactly what, where and by external influences why our being must correct with immediate action.

Your real being is pure consciousness, the authentic expression of the Self that has been within you since the beginning.

It only exists unchanged in the Now through your own boundaries, projections and interpretations of reality. Your real being is pure, pure living creative curious bliss. When you see yourself and your higher self separated, your inner conflict will reinforce the separation until everything in your reality blows up into an explosion to dissolve into nothing.

This intense contrast will force your human conditioned ego to crash, to surrender, to remove distorted perceptions and revelations that you have created to surrender to reality, to your true being - and the time is now.

Diving layer by layer into unimaginably dark planes within the individual being with all that made us up to now, but that is exactly where your infinitely shining jewel is.

Human resistance becomes cosmic resilience

An extremely responsible act of self-love which reflects the unconditionality of the universe.

+++ NEWS TICKER 7/10+++

7 October 2020 by Jada Alesandra Seidl 16 comments

Once again many of you will find yourselves in the dark night of the collective soul grotto bad. Therefore a little guide to shake up your memory.

With the change to the month 10 we are moving very close to the zero point energy and thus anchoring higher octaves of the source coding. Through our willingness, consciously or unconsciously, we open up a lot of blocks of emotional trauma. All this is done with fire energy to unlock/activate the sovereignty of the galactic DNA on our level of DNA.

It is all about untying the cords that have been tied since our birth in this world. All of these knots are in the lower part of the physis, the cell data storage of the embodiment, including lessons and teachings, the root and sacral chakra, creating immense pressure in your entire embodiment.

The human/collective aspect falls up to the zenith ( 13/10 when Mars shines as brilliant as it will in 35 years) in dramas of a multilayered kind.

Since Friday the 2/10, the Sky Stage has been firing up archetypal changes and breakthroughs to build our new character.

The beginning of the busy Transformative Phase was marked by the rendezvous of Mooness and Mars orchestrated by Saturn which in turn picks up the January Stellium to remove the ballast of time and order for reality. Mercury supports self-analysis in the left brain sphere, the way we deal/act with all aspects of our present life. Uranus fires disturbance and solution.

As we leave the old templates and dynamics of the 3rd dimension, we crack the separating membrane from the inside out, encoding all the old codes so that the 5th vibration frequency can emerge in this embodiment, the multidimensional galactic DNA - your avatar.

An extreme of the energy of perspective shifting that any earthling can feel.

What makes October so different from the other months of the year is that the change takes place in a depth of the interior that we have not yet known or accustomed to. The current in the river, the Panta Rhei, is faster.

You cannot turn back but you can decide how to ride these rapids, positive or negative.

It is time to re-examine everything you have been told, everything you have created for yourself, to empty the wrong filling of your body.

And yes, there is also the fear with its huge spectrum that appears when certain situations arise. Fears and blocks that we want to automatically switch off to avoid thinking too deeply with the already encoded reality. Be aware that you have been feeding this programme, your programme itself, for a very long time. Only the human created ego wants to hide, run away from this wound.

Yet the great triggering of emotions, of memories, is more necessary than ever before to flush it out right now.

Triggering through emotions and memories pushes us exactly in the direction where the answer is fear, automatically bringing our whole system back into the accumulated density of embodiment.

It is also a truth that we feel these fears a thousand times more intensely than before during the influx of fire-tachions, as the collective qualia of the field also sweeps through us with a lot of shocking or surprising news, patterns and programming. A flooding of our system to uncover the hidden in order to make changes - action, manner on a heart level.

But remember, there is this one millisecond that is important.

The second of deciding not to follow your usual process, but to let your heart take over the energy of what is behind that wound, that block of fear.

By the moment your heart opens, a large inner encapsulated layer transcends and you realise that the fear of being hurt in some way is what stops you from moving forward.

Sovereignty requires a reconfiguration to confront our fears and disappointments, their paralysis and indecision, which we transfer both to ourselves and to the outside world in/as expectation. Toxicity that poisons us from within and makes it difficult, while the adrenaline floods the body, to keep us centered and even harder to be forward inspiring in the moment.

Nothing that has made us what we have been for the last 13,000 years can be taken into the cycle of the new system - the challenges are getting deeper and often hyper-accelerated so close to zero.

Things are not what they seem, what we thought, what we know about them, change perspective to look at the connections behind the scenes and their exponential expansion.

All this is happening around the globe, the social distance is not there to wait for anything, but to actively prepare ourselves for the cultivation of the greater connection of unity with and among each other, the full activation of sovereignty.

Because of your discipline you have arrived where you are now. We define discipline as a heavy word, but in fact discipline obliges you to only bring out the highest version of yourself.

Your next involvement requires the refinement of your inner strength outside any comfort zone.

Growing tensions that all influence collective alchemy.

No one outside of yourself can teach you to wake up and let the transmutation to the Avatar happen. You grow, change and space only through your inner being and not the other way around - be aware of what you are interacting with every second of your life, acting through yourself initiating in the Pantarhei makes you what you are.

Body sensations - as our organic body merges more light into one, digestive problems, left-sided pressure headaches, cell pressure, spinal pain, tickling extremities, numbness, speech difficulties, amnesia, Vagus pain, jaw pain, mostly on the right side, burn like pustules/rashes, new port-wine stains, growth spurts, colour changes in the eyes, skin/peeling, prolonged menses, gonad pain, nosebleed and unspecific nerve pain.

I see you, we see ourselves eternally connected in love

By the way, the balancing energy of fire energy is WATER - in every form inside and outside

Shift Update 10-2020

Posted by Jada Alesandra Seidlam 29 September 2020 6 comments

The 10th month of the year begins with a bang and replaces the 1st part of the female paradigm shift with part 2. The many alignment optimizations in the cosmic dimensions shift every earthling from the comfort of the old illusionary roles/paradigms into the quantum leeway of the new earth.

Already the last week of September increases the tone/light spin concentrated on the focus of our life purpose to follow the obligation and personal responsibility of our individual soul plan. Which topics we have discovered since February, are the teaching contents understood, could we balance and actually integrate.

Acceptance is the first step towards change

At the quantum level there is no past or future in the present moment. Sound and light, healing frequency in the spin of the quantum level work in DNA, cellular memory, in the physical and psyche, triggering your innate memory, a healing method to navigate the amounts of data stored in your subconscious, which your mind has created your current body through this, back into the reality of reality.

The present is the only moment where you can create and learn to use your abilities. Accept things and your life as it is and create the life you want.

The direction of the fiery hurricane has turned and is finally preparing for the destiny we intuitively follow on this journey.

To allow our highest soul imprint to act.

In the fiery intensification of the inner flow of the Cosmic Wave Principle, everything comes down to what extended flow in this principle of celestial delegations is affecting you, what paradigm is attracting our attention - in the best case, unlocking the seal of clarity that clearly highlights your next steps until mid-November.

Be aware that October is the most unpleasant and scary month of the year so far, not only for you but for everyone.

Since the last September of the 3rd year, we have been climbing this peak, slipping several times into the deepest depths to get back on the way to the gallery. A splendidly interlinked, dazzling and inspiring temple journey that constantly confirms our entitlement to the pilot's licence, the "I" climbing units from the "I" to the "WE" during the flying hours.

With the 1st full moon (of two, at the beginning and at the end, the rarely occurring blue moon on 31/10) - harvest moon on 1/10 (CEST 23:05:15h - in the cosmic intensity of the eager, idiosyncratic cardinal fire sign Aries, internal tension spirals of drama, self-interest wander to the surface, which can lead to extreme pressure and weather conditions around 6/10).

The two full moons are the last before the beginning of the new eclipse season of the 4th year.

A powerful pull is created, which wants to pull us back deep into the sea of 500 years of imperious oppressive, tightly controlling, polarizing structures of the past during the summit hike on the main ridge of the 2020 year, use your parachute of retreat to allow breaks.

As the male celestial bodies - Mars and the Sun (ego) - steer your attention, the fire of ego frustration blazes in the archetype Tropic of Tropic of Energy.

Mars rides with the great kahunas of Capricorn - Jupiter, Pluto and, towards the end of October water, Saturn - in the preceding phase of October to wrestle with the Sun for the Age of Aquarius at the crossroads of the earthling's journey.

In the human aspect of the earthlings, fear, uncertainty of the collective everyday experience and the deep vulnerability during this last transitional trinity pushes to the surface. Challenging aspects of the past that urgently require non-judgmental forgiveness emerge unembellished. Separations, changes of location, changes of profession, shifts in interaction constellations, structural shifts, power struggles are the order of the day both on the level of collective and personal experience (9/10).

Many wounded beliefs and conditionings pile up in the throat and Ajna Chakra, make sure to stay permanently hydrated even in month 10 to accelerate the decay in the physical body.

By accelerating in the completion of this great karmic cycle on a collective level, we are challenged to use our courage to apply our intent to our deepest inner beliefs so that the new paradigm of equality and exclusivity, of oneness, can unfold.

Fuelling the female celestial bodies - Venus and Moon (compassion/heart mind/ sacral chakra) - your attention will experience surprisingly positive harmonic changes in all relationships/interactions and ultimately in the physical.

Since 24/4 Pluto now moves backwards, on 4/10 its informed direction turns forward again - April experiences come to the surface and through contemplation enable collective shifts in consciousness.

Can you still remember the multidimensional panoramic waiting room, now in this room the Blue Portal Arcturia- Heart Dilatation- opens to the 2nd super moon (16/10- CEST 21:31h/balance) and prepares you 48h for the alchemical transformative healing time of the changes in the spotlight of Scorpio (from22/10). We have to learn to understand that what we used to call our world no longer exists, we have no possibility to walk the old comfortable paths, creative new ways of acting are needed to make the change happen with all that we are.

You are experiencing the possibility, when your heart is set on the highest good of all that is and your personal ego, which you have created, is allowed to step through the tunnel of death and rebirth, to learn to navigate the light bridge between realities, timelines, realms, dimensions with precession and clarity.

Decide what in your life's journey belongs to your real will, you are responsible for yourself. Do not let yourself be separated from your destiny and do not repeat the mistakes of the past. No one can change through you, only you can change yourself.

On 31/10 we will end the first zenith ascent with the second rare "blue" full moon (CEST 16:49h/Bull) which will have an eventful connection to Uranus. Suddenly new unexpected realities and situations shift the earthlings out of their comatose states and calibrate life to the new ways of your being.

Remember ***We are stars wrapped in skin. The light you seek has been within you since the beginning -
Diamond Crystalline Being

Days of change 3.,6.,11.

Portal days: 4th, 7th, 12th, 18th, 25th, 26th

Personal correspondence: Kidneys, adrenal glands, bladder and excretory functions, skin muscles, connective tissue, bone apparatus, legs and feet.

Survival and safety impulse, conversion of strength and energy into genetic material and nature.

Thank you for your appreciation and attention

I see you, we are eternally connected, you wonderful being of love
