Shift Update 11_1-4-5-6-61-8_2019

8 October 2019 Jada Alesandra Seidl

31/10 Happy All Hallows Eve, Happy Samhain the day when the veil between this material world and the subtle one is almost lifted, which makes it easy to connect, but care also the shadow world is in search of manifest space (body and mind). Most earthlings are only beginning to live their Authentic Self of Reality, if someone is not stable enough, it is easy for the dark ones to settle down and manipulate. By the way, the 31/10 shows the perfect reflection of the results of your individual development during the 13th Universal Month directly from the Source Self. How could you generate, accept, implement, align, use, recognize, and apply your cosmic teaching content within yourself?

The sextile of Mondin and Mars on 31/10 is an encouraging aspect of an energy boost, a stimulus to enthusiasm.

The conjunction of Moon and Jupiter expands everything that happens and strives for goodness and productivity.

There can be healing and you will be encouraged - readiness is a key.

A very personal recommendation to keep a logbook day after day, the alchemical process is easier to recognize and the stumbling blocks on the royal path are exposed very easily.

In the next two days, the beautiful Venus will bind Mercury at the very moment when Mercury is at the height of its powers.

To open to the November energies it is important to remember that to the Super New Moon a high-intensity star code activated - LIGHT CYCLE - Sun, Moon and Uranus at 4° (in House of Values/Bull) in the alchemistically powerful 13 Universal Month (Year3 Month 10 - 13/4 Number of Empowerment for Transformation - Manifestation). It was this new moon that manifested the change into the new level of consciousness and integrated it firmly into the databases.

From now on, each being is aligned to the year 2020/4 every second and has the possibility to rise from its own old ways of being through its own interaction.

4 is the number of manifestations where the aggregate state changes from subtle to solid and since you are migrating to a very special planetary event - as already mentioned by some shifts before - which was also set in motion 500 years ago (1518) in 4° Capricorn and on 12/1 (17:59h CEST- 16:59h UT) in year 4- again reaches a final collision point and works with an evolutionary and multiplied efficiency than that of 1518 for the next 500 years.

At the same time, there is a great opportunity to erase low experiences of the last 10 years.

Mercury is now officially declining in the Scorpion Decade. The next three weeks are something very special and care should be taken to make your life flexible so that mistakes and errors can be avoided. Especially useful in this phase, the sacred space for spiritual reflection - organizing, sorting what needs to be cleaned up.

Where Mercury is currently in decline, conjugated Venus drives mindfulness to a deep level where truth reigns - especially understanding the impact on the soul level of what you have focused on.

If Venus has a major role on the sky stage, blessings in love and prosperity are activated - a grandiose time of gratitude - heart fractal expansion - deep emotional compassion and wise leadership - space of blessings.

The House of Scorpio gets to the bottom of the truth and invites you to seek it in interaction. If you then make an appointment with Mercury - transformation and empowerment are daily experiences, how do you communicate with the world, do you pay attention to proportionality, are you demanding and respect your fellow inhabitants of your mother sphere. You can also send out/exchange the new transfer of knowledge through your lightning-like insights and their contained ideas synchronously with their arrival in love.

It is very important to take a close look (detective work) at the events and experiences with you and your environment in order not to overlook or consciously avoid important details that were previously hidden. Bring absolute authenticity, integrity, affection and caring curiosity into all interaction so that the needs can be made possible towards wholeness, for each being. Acknowledge that you have changed and that you are not yet so present in everyday consciousness.

As empath you feel everything and everyone, the sequence of your elementary data chain is conditioned to always act according to the heart, even if many boundaries have been crossed by others. Now it is necessary to show limits, the no has to be learned, you just leave a service which is interpreted completely wrong by many earthlings. It is not your duty to remove the stumbling blocks for others, to cushion the footprints of others, your anchored intention is to store as receiver and transmitter of energy through all levels and layers in separate datasets so that evolutionary history, where needed, can be redesigned in the halls of knowledge.

Now it is important to understand deeper into the knowledge of the flow of information, its transformation and resulting reactions in the transformation of your current form of embodiment.

Simply put, your embodiment consists mainly of water, proteins, fats and minerals.

It is necessary to go a little further back, into the source of all birth.

The substances mentioned above are again composed of different elements. Oxygen makes up the largest part, followed by carbon. Hydrogen is also part of your organism. As well as nitrogen, calcium, chlorine, phosphorus, potassium, sulphur and much more. Carbon, nitrogen, hydrogen, phosphorus and sulfur are the elements of life in the entire interstellar space. We shrink, go deeper and recognize 97% of your body consists of these elements - you are MANIFESTED ENERGY of the INTERSTELLAR STERNENSTAUBS. We are all stardust.

Your reality is energy from the Big Bang of love of all creation.

If you look inside the elements, you will see their composition consisting of atoms. So, your mass consists of about 60% water, 20% protein, 15% fat and 5% minerals. We can therefore assume an average molecular weight (1/mol of a substance is 6.02214076 molecules) of about 30.

A human of 80 kg consists of $80.000:30 \sim 3.000$ Mol /Avogadro constant $3.000 \times 6 \times 10^{23} =$ approx. 2×10^{27} molecules. The number multiplied by 3 (water has 3 atoms; fats and proteins a little more) rounded up, we get the following result for the number of atoms/protons masses.

So your embodiment is 10 to the power of 28 atoms proton masses. From this mass, geochemical reactions and photosynthesis have resulted the birth miracle of the cell. 10 to the power of 14 cells, that is 100 trillion or 100,000 billion your matter of form.

Atoms have an extremely stable ability when the radioactive elements are excluded. They survive billions of years and since their formation as dust they waft through the entire multiversum until they agglomerate again with others, clump together and allow new life to emerge/be born.

Digging a little deeper - the physical evolution of matter and its information - the first supercomputer data carriers of creation - began with elementary particles after the Big Bang, the birth of the universe. At a moment's notice, quarks, nucleons and immediately afterwards the first light atomic nuclei and atoms were formed, above all hydrogen and helium. Heavy atoms only emerged in the course of trillions of years through fusion processes in the cosmos. The extremely strong nuclear power between the quarks started the flow of information - consciousness. In the quarks, however, only nucleons are stable; here the proton has an infinite quality of life and the unbound neutron a half-life of about 15 minutes. Protons - positively charged - have two up quarks and two down quarks, neutrons - neutral - have two down quarks and one up quark. Nucleons thus carry not only altered but also completely different information, which is called emergent (interaction of several factors unexpectedly newly emerging - mental brain functions are also considered emergent).

The accompanying change in the course of physical evolution/matter was that nucleons reacted with nucleons through strong nuclear force to the atomic nuclei. Then the positively charged atomic nuclei with the negative electrons could form the neutral atoms of the periodic table with their electromagnetic force. Each combination of protons, neutrons and electrons to form atoms thus produces emergent information, in which the electron shell provides different new information - they all carry the highest form of the creation qualia.

The electron shell plays a decisive role in all chemical reactions.

The properties of the electrons in an atom are determined by their special electron functions. They have wave functions which carry the atomic nucleus in the nucleus as a spatial structure.

With the transition from single atoms to polyatomic molecules, structures emerge which did not exist before.

Now the gravitational force comes into play - it is the weakest of the fundamental forces. Stardust becomes compressed matter bound by gravitational force - this is how the mother ship Earth/Gaia/Terra was created. Geochemical processes and photosynthesis made life in this form possible.

Cells of all living beings are characterized not only by their special chemical and structural properties, but also by very special biological mechanisms, which are able to store energy and information, with which they keep their life processes going.

The nature of life understands how to store huge amounts of data on the structure and function of cells in a tiny nucleus. To copy this data perfectly and continuously during cell division has not lost any information from generation to generation since the beginning. An extraordinary achievement of the incredibly grandiose macromolecule in the DNA chain molecule.

Emergent information - finding geometric structural features independent of chemical properties in the sequences A- G- T- and C of molecules But we have talked about that before....

Well, information is in ALL elementary molecular structures, which can be described by the number of particles, their distances and inclinations - helix, square, tetrahedron, polymer or triangle.

There are unbelievably many particles in play everywhere, so temporal and local patterns can be formed that are stuck in sound, symbols and visions and contain new abstract information. These patterns are for understanding - information can only be understood by deciphering and understanding the coding of language - you are well on your way to deciphering the interstellar information of your universe - change happens with it.

Sound and geometric structures basically consist of several particles - molecules, photons, but differ in specific properties.

The body is the material part of you and is called mass - you can look at it, you can touch it - with it you wander through life, a life you owe to your unconscious form of energy.

The way of being, your universe of mind, of consciousness is the immaterial part, the part that is not seen by others.

Light particles/photons release electrons through tiny amounts of energy on the light-sensitive layer of your eyes, guiding your subconscious mind to spontaneously process the information brought in by photons and trigger physical reaction, which in turn converts much more energy than in the previous process. Remember, your spectrum of perceptible light is only 1%, that is 99% you cannot even begin to perceive. It sets in motion a physical, chemical, biological mechanism that follows the physical, chemical, biological laws of the biosphere of your planet.

Everything that happens dynamically in this world, that is set in motion, is triggered by special forms of consciousness.

Here consciousness carries the thinking mind - how you think, how you act - the ability of the mind to enable how you implement knowledge and experience - intelligence is a qualia feature - the subconscious mind in turn is the pre-formation to the thinking mind - the subconscious mind contains all stored knowledge in the neurons and the Automated Mind controls the somatic and vegetative nervous system.

Thus, all physical mechanisms run via electrical/chemical signals from the nervous system into the bloodstream, ultimately into the entire body system via the consciousness.

Meanwhile it turns out that a large part of the earthlings changes the molecular structure of their brain demonstrably by internal work and the constant formatting of the new data sets over the pineal gland. The frontal cortex will receive several uploads in the next weeks and an expositio heart fragment elevation will take place (headache in the back of the head - pineal gland / epiphysis - headache forehead, flickering eyes, dizziness - frontal cortex). Brain and heart are already shifting and interacting in the new plane. An action which raises the usual electromagnetic field detection many times over.

We are all stardust, which is why planetary currents are accompanied by direct interaction with all meta-beings. As a brief reminder of how much they shape your life - a good example is the mooness on, despite her distance she determines the tides of your nature in your world.

1 /11 KICKSTART to the middle of the last Trinity Part in the 3rd year - intense 61 days of work at the turn of the year - 73 days to the epic century event - 2 months to clean up and completely manifest a completely new version of your being.

November will accelerate until the middle of the month at a rate that many think they can't keep up with. Speed to zero is the content of the first 20 days of November - movement in alignment.

Although the old world still exists with its cruelties, dawn has already begun in the new world, which cannot be described by linear parameters and familiar interpretations.

In parallel, the trine of the Moon and Uranus takes place right at the beginning. A stimulating and invigorating flooding of your atmosphere - after last week's detective/shadow work for many a pleasant, restful really necessary experience.

It's not over yet, the roller coaster rides resume their high acceleration course pretty quickly.

Mars and Pluto unite on the 5th and 6th/11th on hot, impulsive interactions that may build up a few days before - both are the rulers in the house of Scorpio (Pluto the Awakener). Both of their Qualia shifts the focus to reflect all events from February/3 and especially those of the last Scorpio New Moon.

Venus - 1/11 migrates to the Sagittarius and will be there until November 25th, gives a taste of the Sagittarius period.

From the first day a special alchemy is manifest. Each day up to the 11/11 hyperwave is filled with a very special star coding. 211- 311-411-511-611-711-811-911- 101-1111

In 11/11 the sun is also declining towards Mercury. The rebirth of the messenger of the gods Mercury (visible with a telescope Mercury passes in front of the Sun - next opportunity 2032).

12/11 we have a full moon harvest moon in the House of Values of the Taurus, whose ruler is Venus. Lots of energy to turn your values, goals, dreams into reality - what have you sown, how rich is your harvest?

From 19 to 24/11 Jupiter wanders through the Galactic Center. An extremely positive powerful event for alignment - which will not take place again until 2031.

The good mood continues on 20/11, now Mercury is turning forward again.

Events from this cycle can end or find possibly a new switch setting. Possibilities or a new awakening in relation to what has passed, especially in questions of interaction/communication and technology.

24/11 continues the Good Mood ride, Venus and Jupiter in the House of Sagittarius will align above the Galactic Center at eye level. Fantastically creative magical energy which promotes optimism as well as romance.

The Venus energy accumulates in this phase and together with Jupiter it is one of the most beautiful energies we have been able to experience since an eternally feeling time.

Sagittarius Neumondin is present on 26/11. The offer, a chance to rethink topics, lessons and patterns of one's own way of being, which have worked in you since the last solar eclipse 2/7/3 - Parallel starts the preparation program for the SoFi on 26/12 (visible Southeast Asia - ring-shaped)

At the end of the month Neptune dire.kt turns at 15° (21/6 declining).

If we remember.... on the way to the Galactic Humanoid, to the Metawesen, Alcyone's deployments are again and again and in the last weeks almost every hour aligned to weave fed tachyons on subatomic particle level into the atomic level of the body several times a day to lead to a zero point and to be able to represent your actual form of consciousness to the surface/external surface - Everything in synchronous unity illuminates the royal path of freedom.

Energy Organs - 1 -11 -3 -4 -5

Body Correspondence- Headache - Frontal Cortex, Medulla Oblongata, Thymus Glands, Gonads, Joint and Limb Pain Extremities- Spinal Canal

Portal days - 1 - 4/11

Turning days - 12

Thank you very much for your dedicated attention - and if you feel the impulse of this work to support this space, or to help shape the warming fire of the board kitchen sofa chat, you will find the opportunity in the top left menu bar - as always, the updated values of this space are published here for transparency.

All a grandiosely holy courageous Alchemistic Jump into the magical month 11, which is already noticeable with many between news transfers meaningfully.

Dear Jada,

Even though I don't understand a lot of what you write, I like to read your messages again and again.

This week headaches, dizziness and flickering eyes. That's why the ophthalmologist-naturally without any findings.

Thank you for always describing the body symptoms. This helps me a lot to understand and to trust and to pass myself on.

Thanks again for your valuable work.

For current acute reason

How was your weekend?? It wouldn't be surprising if you had an experience with subtle dark energy in the last few hours. We talked about it a few days ago. Energy is information - shadow energy seeks its way into instability.

Your new life is already calling you, is ready, but the shadow world is fighting for its accustomed systems, structures, is going into a symbiotic relationship with the dying ego. The last and absolute fight for survival of the fallen from the Light (known to you as the fallen Angel Recognized Command Center in the Orion System) and the 3D Power/Slave Systems has begun.

While your new life calls you, the old one tries to devour you with all its strength in its clutches. Subtly and relentlessly, these powers infiltrate their information, their 3D baits, through interpersonal interactions that drag you back into duality. This energy struggles with the ego and there are many examples of this - with personal lies, toxic manufacturing patterns of individual imprint - programs of guilt - shame - guilt, programs of limitation, of beliefs, of trust, reproaches that you would do anything wrong ... A way that can lead to self-abuse that includes all forms - negative thoughts, unhealthy food, alcohol, drugs, excessively high pain sensation

Remember, your sensibility is used hidden, woven into your meander system and can only be sabotaged unintentionally by yourself and those if you have arranged an appointment in the space of your reality for this time.

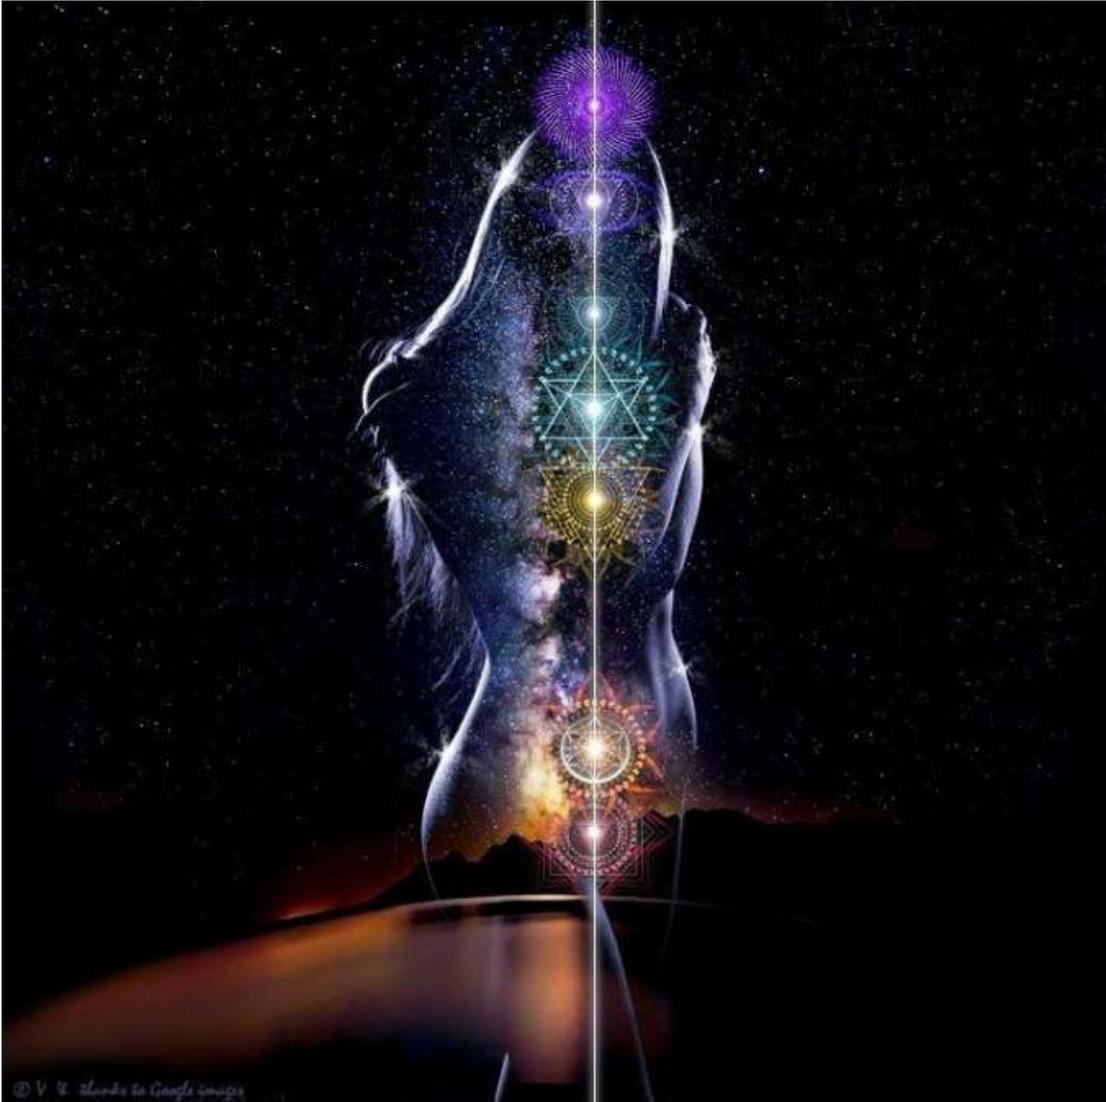

Be nice to yourself and consciously remember your progress, go at a distance and observe what happens when shadow being cannot dock, remember your new way of being which grandiose experiences, synchronicities are already illuminating your path of transformation.

On the Current Occasion - Crescendo of the Energy Cascades

Cascade Risk - Diffuse shadows still buzz over your heads into the entire Gaia Biosphere System. An abuse of power that requires hard work this week.

We come with great experience of creation, an idea so deep that this ascension through your being a creator can elevate your creative creations with your free will.

In the last few weeks, many have often found that - I cannot let go of my mind, I cannot direct my body experience.

But, it may take a little more patience, you can.

Understand your life is currently taking place in a physical world, you are living a physical form. Your higher self - as well as other energies - uses source, interstellar, planetary beings - your physical form to communicate with you, the physical body shows you with its parameter bliss and pain, where possibly new points should be taken to reset your mirror, your resonance body. Because everything you criticize or even fight about others, or want to change. You criticize, fight, suppress in your way of being within yourself. If criticism touches/ hurts from outside, this reaction, the criticism, shows an aspect of your present personality, where still need for action / metamorphosis of the shadows may happen.

But if your current personality appearance is already one step further, stable, self-acceptance and self-love prevail.

If you recognize yourself in the other - in this moment we are UNITY.

In the moment it is therefore important to come to realization, energy is information and acts spirally. If you change into the eagle perspective, a circle opens up and the larger whole becomes visible. This helps you to differentiate what is shadow alchemy and which influences trigger you to reorganize your switches, to upgrade your way of being.

With today there is the possibility - by the taking place influences of the parallel of Pluto and Saturn (not to be confused with Saturn /Pluto conjunction in January 2020, though resembling) which were also already in March and July exactly to check your progress, how and what has changed, who or what has influence on my mode of action, how does the resonance express itself in physical correspondence in physical form of my consciousness.

Discipline is essential as it is one of the most important preparations for the coming week where the lens of the heart docks to the cosmic heart and its angles and essence.

Please, please make sure that we can trust that creation is love.

Be aware of every living being is a brilliant jewel of universal magic.

If you think the system wants to challenge you, try to disable the heart through logical mind and certainty, you will miss the gift and magic of your phoenix of universal unity.

Remember the great whole, use the magic of forgiveness -every life is trying to act to the best of its knowledge and conscience at the moment to make home - arriving in the 5th dimension - NOW - happen in matter.

Body correspondences - flu-like symptoms, neck/back pain, frontal cortex (head area), epiphysis, blurred vision, emptying, heart stumbling, joint pain, fever, herpes, freezing - (as mentioned in the great shift - brain - heart elevation) nausea, dizziness, loss of adhesion

Thank you, dear Jada, especially for the last two newsticker. Just like Birgit, I feel a total overstrain at the moment and only stress in all areas. Now I can also better classify my dream in the night from Saturday to Sunday, where I had the feeling to free myself from a very dark, heavy mass around me, which cost me a lot of strength and was almost impossible to manage. Like the last phase of a birth in the press contractions! But I also felt supported by loving beings, the universe, light or something like that. In this sense we all have much, much strength for this phase. Kathrin

I currently have the feeling that we are simultaneously transforming inner and outer shadows that come up from very deep layers with all their primal fears. I experience it especially at night. My tool is then the day I draw pictures with a lot of light, like a Lemur healing temple, where crystals and colors are used to heal and balance the energy centers.

I have the feeling that a turning point occurred yesterday. I feel that it's not "over", but I don't feel at the mercy of the situation anymore. Everything is somehow further away, as if I were an observer and no longer directly affected. Maybe it's also a breather? In any case, my optimism is noticeable again and my confidence that everything will be fine - for everyone as it is optimal. Peace, gratitude and indescribable happiness flow through me today, instead of the tears, despair and desolation of the past days. Somehow I now feel guided and protected and have the firm feeling that everything will be fine and that the other faculty will delay but not prevent. Now I want to remember this feeling, this confidence, whenever it should become "confusing" again. Hug all of you - but especially you, dear Jada.

In love and gratitude

Increasing the intensity of the 4* and 1* star code

I think you've noticed it, today the 11/11 Portal-4*- has expanded and is now building an intense wave (since about 13.00h - 4*- CEST - pressure change, decreasing oxygen saturation, oxygen deficiency, dehydration, migraine headache, fatigue, leaded locomotion).

These high inflowing gamma waves are extremely enriched with information for the upcoming Trinity event, which reminds of the nature of reality and docks directly to the source.

While creation in this portal inhales first to purify no longer useful energies in the consciousness of wholeness, it is during exhalation that connection and higher knowledge at the subatomic, molecular level takes place a DNA upgrade. At the same time the male and female reunion of the creation energy takes place. At the same time your mirror image of the development shows itself to you and unfolds for the crystalline star wanderers - YOU/YOU - a completely new intention of your plan in alignment with the manifestation of the 5th dimension.

*Remember.... creation does not punish or bless you with karma but is responsible to weave information into sent frequency currents, to integrate it into your vibrational energy which you scatter again with interaction in resonance or sound fields... ****

We have learned - each negative also holds the positive

- Congratulations.

For those who have done enormous shadow work in the last weeks/days (steadily increasing, cumulating since 10/10) in personal as well as collective interaction - also in uncovering - the portal will be used in cooperation with the Merkur Transit (for remembrance - 1x in the 21st century). The next Mercure event of this class will be 2032 / star code 4* - manifestation, aggregate state - shift from subtle to solid, a solid foundation) and will give the full moon a special depth of unfolding and experience.

Out there, outside your safe cocoon, the world may currently be chaotic, exhaustive, anxious and confusing, but remember..... you are all working hard to enable an absolutely epic change of everything that is.

Mercury will be reborn when he crosses the sun, thereby perfecting his consciousness and communicating more powerfully than before between creation and earthlings. He transmitted/teaches to understand the connection between body, heart and soul.

You yourselves had sown this seed before this memory, empowering you to mature under all the rubble and ashes of collective vibration into strong great masters of luminal evolution - of oneness, peace and love.

What an energy, 11/11 portal, Mercury transit and activation/unsealing of the grandiose 12/12 portal to the full moon, the UNITY IS SHAPED - IN LOVE

Dear ones...at noon (stuber from above) a memory.....conscious working with soul-star chakra helps immensely in this phase...already mentioned in News 8/ 10... It is located at the back of the neck at the base of the skull, exactly where there is an indentation and is the size of a golf ball. This chakra works more on a transpersonal level, i.e. everything that transcends the personal. It works on the soul level and your aura (to grant connection/interaction with others again) a bodiless chakra but above all it has the task to uncover any toxic karmic interaction and gives the possibility to clear it up in direct cooperation - which showed itself in these days in the many intermediate layers and their revealing "multiple births".

The Soul Star Chakra is a still young/new and therefore only through you- following your highest version-your magically creative-power, changeable developable chakra. Visualize it and always use only the first stream of color you can recognize and concentrate on it- it helps you the necessary enthusiasm, the necessary determination in this, your enormous soul star. The cumulative union with the Earth Star to the Heart Lens Extension 11/11 still we are in the middle of cleaning up.... Disease of interaction of the patriarchate of the collective are much denser in their structure, contain more informed atoms/molecules than healthy matter (interlocking information effect in big shift update 1-30/ 11)

If there are excessive fears in your way of being, you can consciously send the superior clarity and intention of your solar plexus chakra into your base into the core of the root chakra...visualize your funnel, the spin, the glistening light and direct it with your highest heart intention into the root....

10/10 was initiation into Holy Zero-Point Energy of Death and Rebirth - When Soul Stars and Earth Stars merge the language of the heart is to find the signposts of inner peace inevitable to make outer peace manifest - a recurring event to zenith 11/11

Dissolution of the anxiety programs

Hundreds of millions of years ago, when the fallen dark forces plunged your galaxy into chaos, Earth was chosen to launch a cosmic living experiment. A multidimensional operation was initiated directly from the Manifesto Creation, joined by volunteers, star seeds and ancient souls. They agreed to forget the reality to its origins behind the membranes in order to build their homebase here. A need to gain experience in life in matter in order to restore balance in the universe.

But billions of times - even though the seeds of creation expanded hidden in chaos in all the aeons, the hidden development carries all the collected data in its supr storages to fall back on in the new aeon. The alignments were refined from century to century - and again and again, seeds were patiently called upon to bring ethical values of creation into matter, but also to refine the human biosphere to optimize the liveliness of love for the wholeness of life, to calibrate them.

Currently, all life on earth is in comparison to the 20th century where only a third of all, consciously their cosmic origin with their minds could comprehend, in a broad awakening process already in the last year of the 20th century.

A chronological initiation 1999 -2011 Activation of a cosmic pool of seeds -2012 Dissolution of the paths and connections of interaction which are not oriented towards the awakening of the reality of the soul - 2013 Downloads and integration of the healing fluid crystalline star codes 2013 - Opportunities to set the course for new movement structures in the direction of the royal path - 2015 Authorization for the path to inner healing, interaction of the soul - 2016 Once again find the possibility of change, to choose new spaces of interaction in this life - 2017 destruction of old 3D structures, after capitulation, dissolution of their attachments, 120-fold expansion of the radiant power of reality - 2018 space of emptiness - creator initiation the canvas of life in matter takes on new form, new beginning, beyond all illusion, Akasha - talent import - 2019 retreat and dissolution of individual karma history and linear time 2020 solid foundation for the new book of life in unity with creation.

The sequence of exposing shadows and their illusion - drama and trauma guilt shame guilt - to face the resulting fears is an urgent necessity for the coming marriage of the cosmic and earthly heart.

When both their qualities interweave, soul star and earth star connecting heaven and earth and both qualities manifesting cosmic knowledge, there is no place left for your old life.

Step by step you have been led to this summit to unveil yourself. To consciously connect with your corpus amygdaloideum (amygdala for short) and cleanse your memories and emotions, fear and inherent anger.

Often budding fear and the meaning of this confrontation is not apparent to you in the acute situation and yet conscious confrontation shows you the illusion that has been created for yourself and collectively. Fear is above all an unknown that can be made known through your will. This gives birth to a new strength. In this unknown, a potentiation of aggression, anger and irritation is emerging in the next 96h. A hurricane of concentrated amygdala activation, where you begin to write your radiance for the new book of realities in the eye of its centered.

Earthlings were used to caste thinking for a long time, certain systems, certain structures, certain imprints, certain codes of behaviour, certain creations of mind, everything was meticulously sorted and stored in drawers until an interaction was necessary and depending on the requirements one of these drawers was opened 1 high 10+x. Remember old boxes don't open new portals of the inner layers, no new paths to manifest bliss in being don't concentrate back what you can't change, don't look at what comes next, that would be a constant stuck in a loop that will always lie ahead of you without ever reaching it, live from moment to moment, find new creative paths to consciously create a new reality. End the mind game of illusion, shame yourself and cling to what comes next, is goal-seeking, in which you are constantly stuck in a loop, that your happiness is in the next place, or doing that. This way you can never be happy because you don't fully enjoy or accept where you are. If you want to change the way you think/attend to it. As you live from moment to moment, you will find new and creative ways to create conscious reality.

Now it is necessary to dissolve all this old household of illusion, to remember the indispensable interplay of existence/life and BEING.

With this the radiance in the connecting corridor epiphysis, amygdala, pituitary, frontal cortex and heart, soul star, earth star, solar plexus - the root chakra, begins to free from all the sticky miasms of the shadows, to form new realities in matter.

Thank you for your attention, I am happy to inform you that although not so many people are involved yet, the board kitchen fire has been visited excessively often since Monday - exactly 8321 times... would you like to support this room - as well as the entry into the board kitchen soap chat - above left in the menu you will find the possibility.....
